Juralio legal terms change log

The log below summarises changes to the five sets of legal terms published on this website

- Product terms of use
- Data processing agreement
- Community template provision terms
- Privacy notice
- Website terms of use

The full texts of the various versions are available on the Juralio website.

23 September 2022

- Product terms of use:
  - Section 15 - added final sentence to clarify that free trial period can be extended even if expired
  - Section 16 - corrected typos (JLT / JTL)
  - Section 22 - replaced final bullet point in section 22 with new text on permissive open source (Apache 2.0) licensing of community templates
  - New section 23 - Juralio community templates
  - Section 30 - replaced third bullet point in section 29 with new text covering disclaimer for community templates
  - Section 31 - deleted 'related' from before 'court proceedings'
  - New sections 32 and 33 - termination for non-payment, and following free trial
  - Section 37 - added 'period' after 'that 90 day'
  - Consequential renumbering to reflect the new sections
- Community template provision terms:
  - A new set of terms applying between JTL and people supplying community template content for publication on the Juralio software platform.

16 September 2022

- Data processing agreement:
  - Addition of Unsplash as a sub-processor, providing images for templates
  - For convenience, addition of product names Fathom, Sheety and Google Workspace after the names of the relevant sub-processors

1 Aug 2022

- Data processing agreement:
  - Addition of Stripe as a sub-processor
  - Minor wording revisions in line with new version of the OneDPA standard published after 20 June 2022
- Product terms of use:
  - Replacement of sections 15 and 16 (early access and subsequent use) with new sections 15 and 16 covering free trials, pricing and payment
  - This change reflected the end of our early access free-of-charge period on 31 July 2022
  - In section 18, we clarified the drafting to specify that the AWS region used is the UK, though this is also indicated elsewhere
  - Other changes were non-substantive drafting glitches (e.g. consistent use of defined terms)
